This column was started last year with a view toward providing various organizations of the University a place wherein could be placed all notices of meetings, or other information pertinent to the student body which was too short to be headlined, but which should appear. It serves a twofold purpose; it allows all of these notices to one column without the necessity of scattering boxes throughout The Kernel, and it provides a single spot where all notices may be found without going to the trouble of searching each column for the notification in which you are interested.

We are not incapable of making mistakes, and the human equation always allows for the possibility that your notice may be omitted. But we do try to get every communication.

June Grads Must File Applications

Seniors who expect to complete their work for graduation at the end of the first semester or in June are requested to make application for a degree on November 21 or 22. Cards should be filed in Room 9, Administration building.

This applies also to students who plan to obtain an advanced degree in January or June.

As the commencement lists are made from these cards it is very important to file an application at this time. No one will be considered who has not made application. (Signed: EZRA L. GILLIS, Registrar.)

'JOURNEY'S END' SCENES LAID IN ENGLISH DUGOUT

'CATS PREPPING FOR KEG BATTLE

Almost Entire Team Is Ready To Enter Turkey Day Game With Vols

TEAM MORALE IS GOOD

Undaunted by four straight defeats and continuous bad luck, the Wildcats have turned in their best practices of the year this week and are determined to defeat their old enemies, the Tennessee Vols on Thanksgiving day in Knoxville.

Wednesday and Thursday afternoon Coach Gamage and his assistants outlined several new plays the 'Cats will use against Tennessee, and the squad then turned them against the frosh with excellent success. The plays are the most deceptive, complicated, and difficult to master, ever used by Gamage. The Kentucky attack, in the Tennessee game will be the most varied presented by the 'Cats this season.

The Frosh were unable to stop either the slashes of Kercheval and Johnson or Johnson's passes to Kreuter, Rupert, Kercheval and Darby. The offenses clicked perfectly and at present the 'Cat offense is the best they have shown all season.

Thursday afternoon, the frosh took the ball and tried the Vols' plays out on the Big Blue and had very little success except for infrequent dashes by Gilmer who impersonated the great Beattie Feathers.

Most of the Wildcat cripples will be on hand for the battle with the Orange and White. Captain "Bud" Davidson was released from the hospital yesterday and is expected to be ready for the impending game. It is not certain that John Drury, who is still suffering with an injury to his trick knee, will be able to play in the Turkey Day game, because the injury has failed to respond to treatment. Davidson is expected to be out for practice this afternoon as he is practically recovered. "Honus" Wagner, giant tackle from Bellevue who has spent practically the entire season nursing an injured shoulder, is much improved and may see considerable service against the Vols. The rest of the squad is in good shape and high spirits for their annual struggle for the beer keg.

The backfield men, who have lasted out the season, are in very good physical condition, after having taken a lot of punishment from the big linemen they have performed against. Ellis Johnson, who started the season with a couple of bad ankles and picked up a charley horse in the Duke game, is in good shape and ready to finish his gridiron career with a great performance at Knoxville. Kercheval is getting increased distance on his boots with every practice and is expected to outdo his kicking of a year ago, when he consistently outkicked the great Feathers.

Little Darrell Darby, who has been shifted around from one place to another during his three years of varsity experience, has been showing the frosh his heels all this week and giving his usual finished performance on the defense. "Bug" Bach, who has been ailing for some time, is off the injured list and is ready to go against the Vols. Jimmy Miller, who was painfully injured in the Tulane battle, has almost recovered and will be in shape to perform against the Vols next Thursday.

PAN-HELLENIC TO REORGANIZE

Men's Greek Union Will Attempt to Obtain Co-operation with Dean of Men to Strengthen Power of Group

A special committee composed of Bill Humber, Harry Lair, and President Gordon Burns will meet with a number of faculty members in an endeavor to reorganize the present Pan-Hellenic council. This was announced by Burns following a meeting of the group.

For the past several years the council has been composed of all national social orders having chapters on the university campus. Members of the student body have expressed a desire to strengthen the union by including other fraternities no longer affiliated with the group. An attempt will be made to secure the co-operation of the Dean of Men in laying plans for the future functioning of the group.

Temporary plans call for a faculty advisory board which will assist the council in governing relations between fraternities. At present the women's councils operated with the aid of the dean of women. The present men's group is operated without the aid of the men's deans. Other colleges operate their fraternity relation board in connection with the head of the men's bureau.

At present the Pan-Hellenic council governs pledging on an honor basis. No penalties are provided for the event that rules are disregarded but instead each fraternity is bound to obey the laws set down. Other inter-fraternity legislation is made and enforced in the same manner.

Little Theater's Second Offering Will Run Week of November 28

Stage Manager G. L. Crutecher has been doing some intensive wartime research work at the Guignol theater during the last few weeks, in order to present an authentic background for "Journey's End," the tense drama of the Great War which will star Director Frank Fowler in the second production of the Guignol season which opens November 28.

A dugout in the front line trenches will be the setting for the presentation of "Journey's End," and the climax of dramatic acting and stage managers art will come at the close of the last act when the dugout becomes the focus for a machine gun attack which causes the collapse of the set and which is expected to terrify the audience as much as it will the players who so realistically enact their roles.

The costumes for the production will be authentic British uniforms which are being procured by Ira C. Evans, costume director, and his assistant, Murray Benton, through the co-operation of the University military department and the Lexington Cavalry club.

The musical score for the overture and entr'acte is being arranged by Miss Elizabeth Hardin and will be composed entirely of war songs. A special arrangement of "My Buddy" will be featured between acts of the performance. The close of the presentation will be varied by the sounding of taps instead of the usual musical finale.

"Journey's End" is an R. C. Sheriff play that causes the audience to re-live the trying, racking war days of 1914-17, and the capable actor-director of Lexington's little theater has chosen an excellent cast for the supporting roles of the drama.

The sale of tickets for the forthcoming production begins Monday at the campus playhouse. A capacity crowd is expected to see this all-male production and students are urged to secure seats before the night of the performance in order to assure themselves of satisfactory accommodations.

SuKy Officials, Cheer Leaders To Go For Keg

SuKy and Beaver Club Will Cooperate in Annual Ceremony

Two SuKy officials and three cheer leaders will accompany the football team to Knoxville for the Turkey day game with the Tennessee Vols. This was announced following a meeting of the group last Tuesday.

The SuKy officials, Gilbert W. Kingsbury and John Ewing, will attend the game in order to participate in the traditional beer keg ceremony that is held between the halves of the game. The officers of the Beaver club, Tennessee pep group, visited the university last year to take part in the affair and this year SuKy is returning the visit.

The cheer leaders, under the direction of Red Davis, will be at the game in order to direct the cheering of the Kentucky fans who are expected to follow the Wildcats. J. B. Croft and Dick Clark, because of seniority of service will attend the game and assist the head cheer leader.

The band will leave Lexington on Wednesday night and will arrive in Knoxville on Thursday morning. This will be their only trip this year and will be repaying the visit of the Tennessee musicians. Approximately 90 persons, including band sponsor Elizabeth Jones and chaperones will leave on the Wildcat special with the special car that has been reserved for co-eds. The expenses of the band trip will total approximately $800 and will be shared by the music committee and SuKy circle.

Men's Glee Club Plans First Trip Of Semester

The Men's Glee club of the University will take its first week after Thanksgiving when the organization goes to Midway to give a concert at the Orphan Girls school there. The following week the club will go to Asbury College at Wilmore to present a program of choral numbers.

Other trips planned by the organization include programs at Harrodsburg, Carlisle, Paris, and possibly Winchester and Mt. Sterling. Members of the university alumni from Louisville are planning to have the club give a program at the Falls City sometime during the year, possibly having a musical combat with the University of Louisville club for the feature of the program. The local glee club will also make its annual trip to Louisville next spring to perform for the delegates to K. E. A. who will be convening there. For this concert the women's Glee club will combine with the men's organization as they have done in the past.

PAN-HEL DANCE DATE IS SET FOR DECEMBER 16

University's Most Gala Pre-Christmas Dance To Be in Alumni Gym

FOREIGN ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY FOR HOP

Pan-Hellenic Banquet, Annual Affair Has Been Discontinued

December 16 has been allotted to the Pan-Hellenic council as the date for the annual dance given by that organization. This was announced recently at a meeting of the council held at the Alpha Lambda Tau house. Harry Lair is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair and negotiations are being conducted with an out-of-town orchestra to play for the hop which will be given at the Alumni gymnasium.

The Pan-Hellenic dance is the biggest dance of the fall semester, and the first formal. Its fame has spread over the South and many alumni return for the gala occasion. Nationally known orchestras are engaged to play at the affair. Despite the current economic conditions the event is to be as big as ever, members of the council stated.

Only fraternity men are allowed to attend the dance and members of the council are allowed to distribute tickets to only their own members. This year in order to make the affair open only to council members, university students who are affiliated with social groups will be required to wear their badges to the dance in order to identify themselves. Pledges will be required to show their pledge button. It is always held the last Friday before the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

The annual council banquet which is given representatives of the individual fraternities will be abolished this year, it was announced. This was done in order to keep the dance itself as elaborate as possible. Members of the council took this step at the last meeting and thereby saved the individual fraternities considerable in the amount of money to be spent. Additional plans announced include broadcasting of the music through WHAS, Louisville.

The following fraternities are members of the Greek union:

Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Lambda Tau, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu, Triangle, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, and Pi Kappa Alpha. Only national fraternities are admitted.

The girls rifle team will be abolished according to an announcement made by Miss Rebecca Averill, faculty advisor to the group. Boyd, before final move was taken.

Rise Reported In Stork Market

Some day we expect Prof. C. W. Hackensmith, neffy and genial intra-mural head to become distinctly hen-pecked. The reason was revealed yesterday when the blond giant was observed passing what physically resembled cigars to members of the physical education department staff.

When questioned "Hack" announced the arrival of twin girls at 11:05 Wednesday. The current arrivals bring the number of young ladies in the family to a grand total of three. Hence the expectation of seeing Hack as a mothered old gentleman. Their names, according to Hack, are Marylene Joyce and Darlene Maye.

$50 IS DONATED TO STUDENT FUND

SuKy Gives Money from Proceeds of Dance; Loan Fund Is in Exhausted Condition, According to Prof. Webb

SuKy circle, university pep organization, recently donated $50 to the student loan fund. It was announced by Prof. W. S. Webb, who is in charge of the fund. The donation was a part of the proceeds from the dance given by the university club during the early part of the year.

This donation is the only one which has been received from any university organization this year and loan fund is practically exhausted, it was said. Last year faculty members played the coaches in a basketball game and a considerable sum was added at that time.

Although nothing definite has been announced, several university organizations are contemplating donating to the fund. Loans are made to worthy students only after due investigations by the committee in charge. Students with poor scholastic standings and who can not show a legitimate reason for borrowing are excluded from assistance from the fund.

The present condition of the fund is due to slow payment of past debts and the complete exhaustion of the principal, Professor Webb announced.

Kentuckian Photos To Be Taken Today

Today is the final date that individual pictures may be taken for the Kentuckian according to the photographer who has been taking the remainder of the individual pictures in the basement of Alumni gymnasium. By a special arrangement with Young and Carl, Kentuckian photographers, it will be possible for individuals of any organization to have their pictures made for the group today.

This will permit social fraternity members, juniors, pledges and members of honorary fraternities, and the remainder of the senior class to have their pictures in the annual if they have the necessary sittings today.

Pictures of the beauty contestants will be taken December 3. All entrants made eligible through the sales contest will be nominated by that time. Three sororities already have qualified an extra entrant.

CAMPUS ELECTIONS:
A CONSTRUCTIVE
CRITICISM

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is an editorial written by a staff member on the subject of campus elections. It is one of a series concerning the same subject that will be published in these columns from time to time. The series has been instigated as a result of widespread campus dissatisfaction with present methods of choosing elective officers and in an attempt to promote much-needed reform. Suggestions of students relative to methods of correcting this unwholesome situation will be welcomed by The Kernel and will be given careful consideration as probable bases for further editorials.

Needless to say, The Kernel does not agree entirely with the editorial published herewith. Particularly, it does not agree with the contention that campus elections should be supervised wholly by the deans of women and men. However, it does feel that many of the arguments are sound, the conclusions just. In an attempt to provoke further student thought on the subject, and with this reservation, the editorial is printed.

Included in the aftermath of a campus election are usually many accusations of corrupt politics and crooked voting. The most recent one held at the university was no exception. However, the charges this time also questioned the integrity and efficiency of the Student Council, which supervises all school elections.

With this in mind, The Kernel conducted an investigation, the results of which should be of interest to the student body. There can be no denial of the charge of politics, nor is there any doubt that in many instances there has been illegal balloting. However, we do not feel that the responsibility for the existing condition rests solely upon members of the Student Council. That the Council has aided or taken part in any such activities is difficult to believe; that it has been inefficient in conducting the elections, however, we do feel to be the truth. But instead of censoring or reprimanding the students who compose the Council, our recommendation is that, in the future, all campus elections be placed in the hands of Dean Melcher and Dean Blanding.

It is possible that at times, the Council has winked at irregularities, but if so, we find less fault with it than with the student body. If it has failed to execute fully its obligations, it is for the same reason that prohibition has failed to bring forth a generation which does not know the taste of whiskey. No governing body can enforce an unpopular policy against an unsympathetic public. Too great pressure may be brought to bear against those who make themselves obnoxious to their associates by a too-Puritanical attitude.

We do not mean to condone the Council for inefficiency. We merely take the stand that its members are human beings, and students, and subject to public opinion, which in this instance tolerates a reprobable condition. To use a slang phrase, they are "put in the middle."

In suggesting that the deans of men and women be placed in charge of student elections, we feel that this condition will be relieved. Their position in the society of the university is well established; they need have no fear of the animosity of any particular group. Moreover, there will be less likelihood of attempts at irregular voting. Various cliques that are prone to employ any means promising victory will not be willing to risk incurring the direct opposition of the deans.

Nor do we feel that we are imposing upon Mr. Melcher or Miss Blanding. The purpose of their positions is to take an interest in, and when necessary, direct the activities and social welfare of the students. As all other officials, whether public or educational, they are servants and not masters. Their job is to serve, and they are elevated to a position where they may do so efficiently.

In the other activities of the Council we find little that calls for harsh criticism. In an institution such as ours, it must act as a buffer between the vagaries of students and the sternness of official regulations. It often is necessary to curb the one and to soften the blow of the other. In most of the instances that have come to our attention, we believe that its members have acted intelligently.

MORE DISCIPLINE NEEDED

Discipline committee officers have announced that rigid steps will be taken to enforce the university rule barring smoking in campus buildings. Interested insurance companies have indicated that, otherwise, they will raise insurance rates. Punishment for disobeying regulations includes reprimand, suspension or expulsion, as the committee decrees.

Action of the discipline committee in this instance is wise. Nevertheless, action on another campus problem, equally important, has been neglected. This is the matter of theater rushing.

After The Kernel had asked Su-Ky's co-operation in quelling these disturbances, committee members said that handling this problem was outside the bounds of Su-Ky's jurisdiction. The Kernel and, probably, members of Su-Ky expected the discipline committee to assume the responsibility. But nothing has been done to eliminate theater rushing which results after every pep meeting. There has been no punishment meted out to offenders. The menace may assume even more unwholesome proportions if prompt action is not taken to check the practice.

The discipline committee in enforcing the smoking regulation is following a most commendable procedure. At the same time, it is protecting the university from material harm. It is not guarding students from a harm which will damage the reputation of the university and create an attitude of unfriendliness and strained relations upon the part of citizens of Lexington.

ANNUAL COLLEGE NIGHT

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring their annual all-campus party tonight in the Alumni gymnasium. Committees in charge of the affair have arranged a diversified entertainment program including a dance after the presentation of various vaudeville skits. Students who are particularly talented in presenting acts and dances have donated their services in order to insure the audience of an enjoyable program.

An annual undertaking by the Y. M. and the Y. W. C. A., the party has attracted several hundred students and faculty members who never given. Open to all, regardless of organization affiliations, the social affair is one of the most popular activities on the campus. Members and committees of the organizations responsible are to be commended for their splendid work in giving students an affair that is sure to be appreciated thoroughly by all who attend it.

An entertainment program such as this is worthy of praise. It serves to bring together all groups of students in an agreeable social atmosphere. No discrimination has been made as to who shall be invited to attend. All registered students are invited and are promised a good time.

Jest Among Us

It seems to the Jester that the guards shouldn't gripe. If Stoll field was a nudist colony instead of a football field, they would have a time!

A lot of guys with a train of thought still have a one-track mind.

There seem to be lots of ways to get to the Turkey day tilt, but what we want to know is how to get back!

Sign on a car the day following the election: "Wasn't That Some Depression?"

Newspaper ad: "Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes." Then the depression must be over!

Jester's philosophy on studying: The more you study, the more you write; the more you write, the less you finish; the less you finish, the lower your grade. Why study?

Neglected business opportunities: Selling throat medicine to the cheering section.

Famous last words: "You stay out of this or I'll..."

DOTES AND ANTI-DOTES

By LAWRENCE HERRON

Ever heard of Yo-Yo? With eds deserting Rick-Rack as a pastime, it seems a far-cry to Yo-Yo. But, according to foreign newspaper correspondents, the fad is just taking hold in Europe. And to prove that there is nothing novel under the hat of Sol, they exhibit concrete evidence—display a carved ivory Yo-Yo belonging to Louis XVI.

An ed, lamenting the lack of Kentucky school spirit, claims that at the Tulane game our Big Blue band made more noise than the entire 'Cat cheering section.

Lamda-kye Harold Ray has proved conclusively that he can grow a beard. Not only won Su-Ky's facial adornment contest at Tulane game, but also won it at the Alabama Homecoming game, two years ago.

Prof. V. R. Portmann, department of Journalism, is blushing. Annually lets his classes in on the "how" of hotel managers identifying newly-weds. Claims neophyte grooms invariably sign register "Mr. So-and-so and Wife." Last week the earnest professor visited Cincinnati, with Mrs. Portmann. Turned red on finding room adorned with bask of Journalism. Is blushing. Annually best wishes of management for a happy future. Accustomed to traveling unattached, had signed register, "Prof. V. R. Portmann"—and as an afterthought—"and WIFE."

And for predictions. As band sponsor election draws near Kaydees look worried; Elizabeth Jones, confident, and other ladies, expectant. Kaydees have nothing to worry about.

Typewriter clicks: And now Kaydees have found a Big Blue band cap in the second floor of their house...no claimant found...size 7 1/2. DREAMS

I saw, I saw, over the golden shores of Araby,
A winding caravan, moving toward the coast;
I dreamed, and in my dreams I saw
Saver-winged triremes, sailing on golden seas.
I thought, and in my thoughts there were
All the splendors of the ancient stories;
I looked and before my eyes there were
Gorgeous soldiers, a body guard for kings.
And I played sweet fantasies upon my harp of visions
I was a Sultan, caprisoned in gorgeous robes;
I was a king empowered with the attributes of God;
I was a ruler of a mighty, muffled fortress;
I became a black-haired Don, guarding a dungeon keep.
But my mind spoke, and I became a man again.

ROAMIN' THE RIALTO

Hollywood listened to the public's heart beat and found that it quickened amazingly at pictures unveiling political scandal about noted personages; Hollywood hastened to meet the public's demand with a picture that lifts the lid right off the most secret chambers of the nation's holy of holies, Washington! Screen version of "Washington Merry-Go-Round," featuring Lee Tracy and Constance Cummings, starts Sunday at the Strand theater. Gone cynical, have you, public? Well, here's one that more than meets your demands.

Paramount's release, "If I Had A Million," opening Saturday at the Kentucky theater, is an unusually brilliant display of the coordination of the best Hollywood has to offer in directorial, writing, and acting talents. Gary Cooper heads a cast including George Raft, Wynne Gibson, Charles Laughton, Jack Oakie, Frances Dee, Charlie Ruggles, and numerous others. No less notable is the list of directors, including such names as Ernest Lubitsch, Norman Taurog, Stephen Roberts, Norman McLeod, James Cruze, William A. Seiter, and H. Bruce Humphreys. The story was written by Robert D. Andrews.

Marie Dressler and Polly Moran are at their best in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Prosperity." Sunday's presentation at the Ben Ali. They may have been "Caught Short" once, but now they announce their return to "Prosperity" in this comedy mirroring our own experiences. Depression is just a word in the dictionary to them, and it takes on the same insignificance to the cinema fans with every new spasm of mirth. Pessimists are defied to retain their pessimism in the face of this laugh riot.

It haunted clerks for generations

"The first of the month" used to be a time of feverish activity for ledger clerks. But the Bell System accounting staff—breaking away from tradition—simplified the keeping of accounts and rendering of monthly statements to customers.

They applied a modern system of rotation billing to the telephone business which now spreads this work evenly throughout the month. In cooperation with manufacturers, they devised special typewriters and bookkeeping machines. Thus they did away with inefficient rush and achieved greater accuracy, speed and neatness.

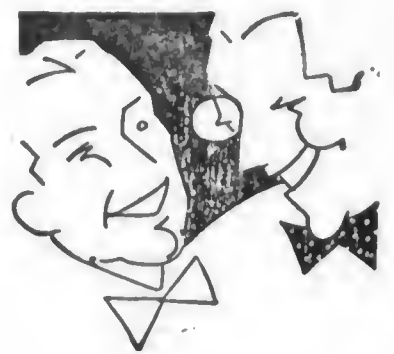

This is but one example of a point of view found throughout the Bell System. Even long accepted routine is constantly studied—it's always worth looking for the more efficient way!

FAMILIAR FACES

Someone once declared that "familiarity breeds contempt;" the declaration at once gained popularity and came to be accepted as truth. Being of an argumentative disposition, we should like to question its right to this acceptance, offering shining examples from our own campus to prove that, if it be true that contempt is bred by familiarity, it is a rule with numerous exceptions.

The most obvious exception we know is a long-legged, dark-haired senior from the College of Agriculture whose wistful brown eyes paradoxically reveal an implicit twinkle when they aren't supposed to be gravely surveying the affairs of the campus brought before the Men's Student Council, of which he is chairman. John Ewing, a metropolitan gentleman from Louisville, is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity, O. D. K., Alpha Zeta, Scabbard and Blade, cadet officer in the campus R. O. T. C. unit, business manager of the Kentuckian, vice-president of SuKv circle, and—really, John, we only publish a four-page paper! To make a long story short, there are only two organizations on the campus to which John is eligible that he hasn't been affiliated with at one time or another. He doesn't prefer peroxide blondes or red-heads and is one person who cuts a dashing figure in riding breeches and boots. We see him every day, but who could ever be a bit contemptuous of him?

423 TICKETS ARE SOLD

Tickets for the Thanksgiving game, annual fight between Tennessee and Kentucky, have reached a new peak, the total number sold now being 423, according to "Daddy" Boles, athletic director of the University. A larger number is expected to be purchased by the students as indications are that this year's turnout will be one of the largest in the history of the contest. All students who are intended to attend the game are cautioned to buy their passes here as student books will not be honored by the Tennessee officials. Tickets are on sale at the Athletic office in the Alumni gym.

Correction!

The Kernel takes pleasure in correcting a misstatement in Tuesday's edition which indicated that gas and oil had been found in Kentucky, and referred to Dr. A. C. McFarlan and the Bureau of Mineral and Topographic survey as the source. Dr. McFarlan wishes to change this to say that a couple of wells had been drilled recently but gas and oil had not been found. The Kernel is glad to make this correction.

Presbyterians Hear Capt. Clyde Grady

Capt. Clyde Grady, assistant professor of military science, addressed members of the First Presbyterian church, Sunday on Religion in the Military Service. Captain Grady has seen service in many parts of the world and is familiar with the work of army chaplains.

Chaplains, as ministers of the gospel, are commissioned officers ranging from first lieutenant to colonel. They receive the pay and allowances of their grade and wear the insignia of their rank.

In army slang, chaplains are known as "Sky Pilots." According to Captain Grady there are 119 "Sky Pilots" in the army, belonging to 20 denominations. The Chief of Chaplains with headquarters in Washington, D. C. is Colonel J. E. Yates, member of the Baptist church, North.

U. T. Independents Want Recognition

The non-fraternity men of the University of Tennessee, who for years have fought for recognition in the activities on the campus, have taken definite steps to attain that goal. The group will meet to discuss plans for a non-fraternity intramural meet. They will attempt, with the aid of Coach Holt, head of the physical education department, to work out a complete program of class, college, and dormitory sports.

A preliminary meeting of independent men was held some time ago, and a committee was sent to confer with the department of physical education with regard to the possibility of unorganized students having the use of the gymnasium at certain designated intervals. This privilege was granted on condition that the independents organize into definite units.

Whether or not these intramural teams of non-fraternity men will engage in political activities is still a matter of conjecture. Last year the non-fraternity men made an attempt to elect non-frat officers but were badly beaten by the more strongly organized fraternity groups.

EIGHT S. C. FOES; CINCINNATI FACE 1933 GRID TEAM

Ruckeye New To Wildcats'
Schedule; Others Remain Same
V. P. I. IS REPLACED

Eight Southern conference games and an engagement with the University of Cincinnati are on the program for the Wildcat football team during the season of 1933 according to information released recently by S. A. Boles, university Athletic Director.

The game with the Cincinnati Bearcats is to be played in the Queen City and is slated to take place under the lights. The Bearcats are the only new foe to appear on the Wildcat's card as all of the other teams were met this season.

Only V. P. I. of the 1932 'Cat campaign was dropped by the Kentucky schedule makers. Cincinnati is a member of the Buckeye conference and annually places a good team on the field. In late years the 'Cats have met the Red and Black football teams but played three seasons from 1929-1931. The Big Blue always drew a good crowd in the Ohio matron's and the Cincinnati school has been declining for several years to get a game with the Wildcats.

The 'Cats will play five games before home crowds in 1933. Sewanee will inaugurate the season in Lexington on September 30, followed by Georgia Tech on October 7. The Tech game is expected to draw a large crowd as the Atlanta fans follow the Golden Tornado to all their games on foreign fields.

The 'Cats play two consecutive games away from home: meeting Cincinnati and Washington and Lee on successive Saturdays.

Duke invades the Bluegrass on October 24 and the 'Cats go to Tusculum on November 4 to try to stem the Clemson Tide of Alabama. V. M. I. provides a breather for the 'Cats appearing in Lexington on November 11. The second game in the series with the Green Wave of Tulane university will be played in New Orleans on November 18.

The annual Thanksgiving day showdown with the Tennessee Volunteers will be staged in Lexington on November 30, next year.

This schedule is fully as stiff as the one played by the 'Cats this season as five of their conference foes are considered the strongest teams in the southland.

Wildcat Schedule for 1933
Sept. 30—Sewanee at Lexington.
Oct. 7—Georgia Tech at Lexington.
Oct. 14—University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Oct. 21—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.
Oct. 28—Duke at Lexington.
Nov. 4—Alabama at Tuscaloosa.
Nov. 11—V. M. I. at Lexington.
Nov. 18—Tulane at New Orleans.
Nov. 30—Tennessee at Lexington.

DIRECTORY TO BE OUT SOON
The university student directory will be distributed among the students the first of next week. The directory will give the name, college, year, home town, Lexington address and telephone number, of all faculty members and students.

In order that all such notices may get the fullest consideration, and to reduce the possibility of error and omission to as low a point as possible we must require that all announcements be sent to the Managing Editor, The Kernel. They must be typewritten, and double spaced. In order to avoid a still greater possibility of error, they must be sent, not phoned.

Dean Melcher reports that two watches, one a wrist watch, and one a pocket timepiece were turned in to his office. The wrist watch was found early in the semester. Anyone who has lost a watch may call, and if description is adequate may have the watch.

There will be a meeting of members of the debating group and any students interested in debating at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Room 231, McVey hall.

Electrical Engineers Hear Charlesworth

A. I. E. E. Hears Bell Laboratory Head Speak On Experiments

H. P. Charlesworth, who at 10 a. m. Monday addressed the Engineer's convocation in Memorial hall spoke to the Kentucky student branch of American Electrical Engineers at 11 a. m. Monday in Dicker hall. His subject was "Purposes and Aims of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and Their Plans for the Coming Year."

Mr. Charlesworth told of many interesting experiments of the Bell laboratories. He told of the development of the cable; how in the past century only two wires could be used at once for every circuit. If this were the same now we could hardly walk on the streets for the telegraph poles. The cable has been developed to such a great extent that now the cable of two and one-half inch-diameter contains 3,600 conductors or 1,800 circuits. In this way a voice traveling from New York to Chicago is amplified 10 times by this new cable, and may carry over as many as five cables at a time.

Russell Gray, president of the Kentucky chapter of A. I. E. E., introduced the speaker.

Changes Are Made In U. K. Curriculum

Dr. Henri Beaumont To Give Two New Psychology Courses

The university senate at a meeting October 31, approved a number of changes in courses and added one new course to the curriculum which will take effect next semester. Dr. Henri Beaumont will give two courses in psychology which were given last summer under his supervision at the University of Vienna.

Psychology 150, a study of European Methods in Adult Psychology will be offered by Doctor Beaumont. Both courses give three credits.

Physical Education, a new five credit course, is a course designed to acquaint the student with the technique of research and to afford opportunity for individual work in specific problems.

Changes have been made in the following courses: English 152, which includes the Age of Pope will omit Dryden and Pepys (3 credits); English 145, Age of Johnson, will replace English 152b and has no change in content (3 credits); English 104, Seventeenth Century Literature will replace English 104, Milton, and instead of two credits, three credits will be given for the course.

PLANS ARE CHANGED FOR CATHOLIC CLUB DANCE

A change of plans for the Catholic club dance was announced yesterday by Joe Reister, chairman of the permanent program committee. According to final arrangements, the Catholic club tea dance will be held 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday, at the Phoenix hotel. Roy Sharpe and his orchestra have been engaged to provide the music.

The permanent program committee in charge of arrangements and working with a special committee for this dance, is composed of Joe Reister, chairman, Louise Wallace, Margaret Kelly, and Frank Perkins. Members of the special committee are Dan Goodman, Ruth Wehle, Anna Bain Hillenmeyer, Margaret Brown, Hilary Davis, Donald McGurk, and Edward Houlihan.

TAU BETA PI TO INITIATE ELEVEN ENGINEERS

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, met Thursday to discuss plans for their annual initiation, to be held Thursday, November 17. At this initiation, there will be eight seniors and three juniors taken into the fraternity. At its monthly luncheon meeting Thursday at the Commons, H. P. Charlesworth, president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and Vice-president and director of Bell Telephone Research laboratories in New York, was principal speaker.

Relations Groups' Conference To Be Held December 2, 3

The second annual conference of the International Relations clubs of all the colleges and universities, will meet at the University on December 2 and 3.

The first conference was held last year at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and Clyde Reeves, president of the club at the University attended.

Mrs. Amy H. Jones, executive secretary of the associated International Relations clubs for the Carnegie endowment fund for international peace, will be one of the principal speakers. Every year a certain fund is set aside by the Carnegie Endowment fund for the maintenance of these clubs.

Dr. Oscar Jaszi, Oberlin College, who is an authority on the Hungarian situation, and a teacher of political science at Oberlin, will attend the conference and take an active part in the various meetings. Another probable speaker on the program will be Dr. Viannac of the University of Cincinnati.

An official program of the conference and the problems to be discussed will be issued in the near future, according to Reeves. Officers of the University club are Clyde Reeves, president; Thomas Lynch, secretary; and Professor A. Vandenberg, faculty advisor.

Fraternities at the University of Tennessee compete each year in a unique contest. The Greek-letter organization keeping the premises about its chapter house in the cleanest condition receives a silver loving-cup from the sponsors of the event.

The judge of the contest is the director of agriculture extension in the state. Periodic inspections are made and a system of grading has been devised in order to judge the competitors fairly. As far as can be ascertained this is the only contest of its kind in the nation.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE JUGGERNAUT OF THE JUNGLE
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the famous animal painter, Paul Bransom... Inspired by the savage charge of the African rhinoceros crashing through the untamed jungle, "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies—that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
